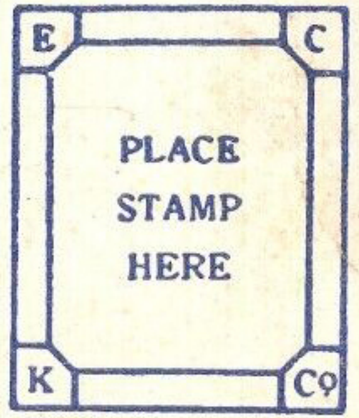
THE WATCHMAN, ZION NATIONAL PARK, SHOWING THE MAKUNTUWEAP RIVER

Here are majestic peaks, the East and West Temples, two great domes crested with crimson that bleeds down their pale sides, the great red sandstone pile of the Watchman looking serenely upon the valley, the stains of crimson on the summit of a white precipice suggesting its name, the Altar of Sacrifice—a glorious variety of colors from delicate pink to mahogany.

—J. T. WATTERS WHOLESALE CO., LAS VEGAS, NEV.—CIY—

4854N



POST CARD